Now transcribe voice messages into text on WhatsApp

New Delhi, Nov 22 (IANS) Meta-owned WhatsApp has introduced a new feature called voice message transcripts and voice messages can now be transcribed into text, "to help you keep up with conversations no matter what you're doing".

Transcripts are rolling out globally over the coming weeks with a few select languages to start, and the company plans to add more languages over the coming months.

In a blog post, WhatsApp said that sending a voice message makes connecting with friends and family even more personal. "There's something special about hearing your loved one's voice even when you're far away. Though sometimes, you're on the move, in a loud place, or you receive a long voice message that you just can't stop and listen," the social media company added.

For those moments, "we're excited to introduce voice message transcripts". Transcripts are generated on your device so that no one else, not even WhatsApp, can hear or read your personal messages. To start using this feature, go to Settings, Chats and then Voice message transcripts to easily turn transcripts on or off and select your transcript language. "You can transcribe a voice message by long pressing on the message and tapping on 'transcribe'. We're excited to build on this experience and make it even better and more seamless," said WhatsApp.

Hyundai Motor, Kia showcase latest electric SUVs at LA Auto Show

Los Angeles, Nov 22 (IANS) Hyundai Motor said on Friday it has showcased the Ioniq 9, the company's first large electric SUV at the Los Angeles Auto Show, along with over 40 other models.

The Ioniq 9 is set to launch in early 2025, starting in South Korea, followed by rollouts in the United States, Europe and other regions.

For the US market, the vehicle will be manufactured at the Hyundai Motor Group Metaplant America, the automaker's dedicated EV plant in Georgia, reports Yonhap news agency.

It boasts a spacious and lounge-like interior, which can accommodate up to seven occupants, and a "sleek aerodynamic exterior design that reflects the company's commitment to blending aerodynamic innovation and sophisticated, futuristic styling, according to the company.

The car also features its innovative E-GMP architecture to enhance the power electric system, which works as an engine and power inverter for hill climbing and efficient driving.

Hyundai also unveiled the Ioniq 5, a hydrogen fuel cell electric vehicle (FCEV) concept car, for the first time in North America.

The concept model provides a glimpse into the design and product direction of Hyundai's passenger FCEV, set to debut in the first half of 2025. Hyundai also showcased 42 vehicles, including the Ioniq 9, Ioniq 5, Ioniq 6 and the Santa Fe SUV. The Santa Fe has been named a finalist for the 2025 North American Utility Vehicle of the Year at the L.A. Auto Show.

Jose Munoz, Hyundai's global chief operating officer, highlighted Hyundai's strong U.S. performance and said the company anticipates achieving its highest annual retail sales in the U.S. market this year.

Meanwhile, Kia said it has unveiled the high-performance version of its flagship EV9 electric SUV at the Los Angeles Auto Show.

The EV9 GT, which made its debut at the LA Convention Center, features a 160 kilowatt front motor and a 270 kilowatt rear motor, delivering a targeted maximum output of 508 horsepower.

The three-row model is the first Kia SUV to be equipped with an advanced suspension system, ensuring stable handling and ride comfort. Its electronic stability control functionality optimally adjusts the shock absorbers' damping force by utilising road surface data from its front camera and navigation inputs.

The EV9 GT is scheduled for release in South Korea in the first half of 2025. Kia also showcased revamped versions of the EV6 and Sportage SUVs, both making their North American debut.—IANS

Business Brief III

Ola Electric set to lay off 500 employees amid controversies, poor results

New Delhi, Nov 22 (IANS) Ola Electric, mired in controversies, is amid a government probe and mounting losses, set to lay off at least 500 employees as part of a restructuring exercise. The Bhavish Aggarwal-led electric vehicle (EV) company is trying to boost its operational efficiency by reducing redundancies and "drive profitability", according to multiple reports.

The restructuring exercise will impact employees from several departments, the reports added. According to an Inc42 report, citing sources, "the aim is to cut expenses to drive profitability and improve margins. There's no set time period for the completion of the exercise". Ola Electric did not immediately comment on layoffs. The company reported a 43 per cent increase in net loss at Rs 495 crore in the July-September period (Q2 FY25), from Rs 347 crore in the previous quarter (Q1 FY25). The electric two-wheeler company also saw its revenue slump 26.1 per cent to Rs 1,214 crore (on-quarter) from Rs 1,644 crore in the first quarter of this fiscal. The net loss, however, narrowed on a year-on-year basis. In the post-quarterly earnings call, Aggarwal said the company's operating expenses had decreased quarter-on-quarter and that the company will focus on cost efficiencies. "As we continue to scale distribution, revenue will keep growing while the operating expenses are likely to remain flat or even decline over the next few quarters," Aggarwal added. The company also saw its market share plunge to 33 per cent in Q2, down from 49 per cent in the previous quarter. According to experts, increased competition and service network challenges have impacted Ola Electric's market dominance.

India's tech, durable offline retail market sees 10 pc growth amid rising rural consumption

New Delhi, Nov 22 (IANS) Driven by rising disposable incomes and greater internet penetration in smaller towns, the Indian tech and durable offline retail market registered a 10 per cent value growth (year-on-year) in the January-September period this year, according to a report on Friday. Smaller cities are emerging as key growth engines for India's tech and durable market and in Q3 alone (July-September period), Town Class 3 witnessed a 9 per cent value growth, surpassing Town Class 1 (6 per cent) and Town Class 2 (5 per cent) cities. Town Class 4 and above also showed a 3 per cent value growth, where media tablets grew by a whopping 90 per cent in Q3, according to the report by NielsenIQ (NIQ), the world's leading consumer intelligence company, in collaboration with GfK intelligence. Factors such as rising incomes, greater internet penetration and increased aspirations are driving consumers in these cities to spend more on everything from essential goods to premium products. The consumers have increasingly gravitated toward products offering convenience, connectivity, and sustainability.
